The next step is to manually configure the Back to My Mac server and then link your computer to the server over the network.Click. Once you're done, click the Save button. Click Next.Your new profile is ready. Anytime. For instance, if the update is available for your platform, which means it can be downloaded and installed, you can click to download it immediately. (Linux) Open a terminal window (you may need to use the terminal emulator app or command line to do this if using Ubuntu Linux). Click the button with the folder icon.Step 3. In the message that appears, select Use this server for packages and files. You may want to try to determine where you installed Windows 7. This is the default location for Windows 7. To return to your hard drive, it's important to reboot your computer.Click. Close the folder window and then click Yes when Windows requests you to restart.As a best practice, it is a good idea to backup your computer before downloading any updates from Microsoft.This will ensure that you can recover your files and settings if it's necessary. (Note: If you want to change the default that your updates are distributed to the Microsoft download server, go to the System Tray in the Windows desktop. Double-click the Windows Update icon and you'll be able to select a different download server.)Step 0cc13bf012
